The Colégio Brasileiro de Reprodução Animal (CBRA) is pleased to announce the III International Symposium on Animal Biology of Reproduction (ISABR 2010). The Symposium will have as the main theme the “Epigenetic Control of Reproductive Processes”. An outstanding group of speakers was invited to cover from general concepts to state of the art aspects of this exciting topic. The ISABR 2010 will feature lectures, platform (oral) and poster presentations. The organizing committee strongly encourages you to submit your best research on any topic related to reproductive biology to this meeting. We hope to welcome you at Águas de São Pedro, a prime touristic destination in southeast Brazil!
